Condition of European Workmen.

Robert P. Porter, who is writing a series of letters on the labor situation in Europe, and whose letters are always instructive, gives an account of the condi-tion of the Dauish working classes. He says the houses occupied by the workingon of Copenhagen are simply deplorable.

says the houses occupied by the workingmen of Copenhagen are simply deplorable.

"The workers live in the back part, and to fully realize their condition one must step into the back yards. They occupy as a rule the top floors of four or five story houses. The only outlook is the narrow and fetit yards, which are not more than ten feet square, and in which are open drains. These houses are as rule too close together, In another part of the city I observed whole streets of low one story yellow colored houses, with high roofs. The peculiarity about these houses is the absence of doors, four and six windows to one door being the rule, and in some instances eight and nine windows in a row and only one door. Single workmen often rent together a furnished room, which will cost them $2.50 per month. Families rent little houses, which generally comprise two rooms and a kitchen, and which unfurnished cost $3.50 per month. The furniture and household utensits they often rent. All are of a common sort. Of late years efforts have been made by the employers of labor to furnish more comfortable homes for the working classes and in a measure have been successful."

The following is an estimate of the year-

Exers: of income over expense..... $1 40 $3 60 $12 20 $13 40 Mr. Porter thinks that the estimated incomes are slightly too high as regards the the earnings of mechanics. What would such incomes be in this country? It is also asserted that about one-quarter of the population of Copenhagen receive public assistance, and that in the poor quarters of Christianborg, in one year alone, 5,000 in habitants out of 15,000 were assisted by the parish, and probably 2,500 others by

is amusing, if anything; and though our great Republican hearts are a little sore over the smart whipping we got last November the perplexities, mistakes and failures of the Democracy afford a fund of amusement that we scarcely dared hope When Cleveland fulminated that fam ous phrase "offensive partisans" he did not dream what a boomerang it would turn out to be. In the early part of the administration when removals were made for offensive partisanship and the charges were open to investigation and publica tion those who furnished the evidence protested against having their "affidavits" being open to the scrutiny of the wholpeople. The protest was so vigorous and the plea for secrecy so strong that it was at last determined to shut the doors and nail down the windows, so that the charges could be seen by no one except the ap-pointing power. This opened up an avenue for envy, malice and spite. Now the President has become sickened of this method and has put on the brakes. What the Administration will next pu

Mosquitoes and Sentiment.

Hartford Post.

It is the little things of life that trouble us more than anything else. Mr. and Mrs. Smiley were enjoying their early evening hour on the veranda, while the silvery moon hung high in the heavens.

"I declare, Hannah; this makes me think of the days forty-five years ago when you and I were young eh?"

"Yes, Ichabod. It is a reminder. Gracious, the mosquitoes i"

"Mosquitoes I should say so. They didn't use to trouble us in those days, but mow" er."

What? I should like to know."

"What? I should like to know."
"Well, one of 'em is a spoony old man."
The evening whiled away, the moon still lighting the old couple's faces, but they were sad at heart and heavy. Mosquitoes and sentiment will not mix. Modest Man From Arkansas,

"Thave a boy-baby," writes an Arkansas correspondent to "Mr. Grover Cleveland," who was born on the lat of March, and on the 4th of March I gave him the name of Grover Cleveland. I can say that he is the finest boy out of the six I have. I did not name him for any present nor any favor, but I write to you to say to you that if you will give me a postoffice at Garner Station I will be under many obligations to you."

Diogenes Doing the Daniel Act.

Calcoo Ness.

"You are looking tough, O Diogenes," quoth Scorates, "Now, by the dog, what have you been doing?"

"I have been searching for an honest man in the Chicago City Council," replied the grim philosopher, mournfully.

"With what result?" inquired the other.

"Will what result other.
"Well, you see," said Diogenes, sarcastically, "my pockets are cleaned out and my lantern is gone! I praise Zeus that they left me my girdle!"

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK.

Siz: The most remarkable meeting ev held at Mountain Lake Park is now in progress, and will continue until the 20th of July. Rev. John Thompson, of the of July. Rev. John Thompson, of the Philadelphia conference of the M. E. Church, has appointed Reva. David B. Updegraff and Dr. Dougan Clark, of the Society of Friends, leaders of the meeting. There are assembled people of all denomi-There are assembled people of an earthur-nations, Friends, Episcopalians, Presby-terians, Lutherans and Methodiste, but in such union it is difficult to distinguish one from the other. such union it is difficult to distinguish one from the other. After the services were opened Saturday morning by Hev. Thompson he said the meeting would now be in charge of Drs. Updegraff and Clark.

The very first hour was glorious on account of the manifested presence and power of the Holy Ghost. God gave us an earnest of what was to follow. Rev. Thompson said he never knew such a beginning for a camp meeting. The tide has been rising higher at each successive meeting. Sabbath day was most glorious without and within. The ministers in charge have the greatest liberty in utterance in presenting Christ as a perfect Saviour from an amount of the prophen and as a result they are brought under conviction.

On Sanday afternoon at the close of Dr. Clark's sermon over ninety arose for prayers. In the evening Dr. Updegraff preached with wonderful power, after which may be predome the meeting closed, these souls were converted and sanctified withly the altar was soon filled with earnest seekers and before the meeting closed, these souls were converted and sanctified withly the altar was soon filled with earnest seekers and before the meeting closed, these souls were converted and sanctified withly the altar was soon filled with earnest seekers and before the meeting closed, these souls were converted and sanctified withly the altar was soon filled with earnest seekers and before the meeting closed, these souls were converted and sanctified with very marked demonstrations of the spirit, truly in the old-fashioned way.

This is only the beginning. We cordially invite everybody to come to this hallowed spot, beautiful for situation, and avail themselves of this great privilege to hear the clear orthodox teaching of the plants of the prophen and sanctified with very was the prophen and p

A Wise Robin.

Muschester Times.

Daisy Hamilton, of Skene House, Aberdeen, writes as follows to the Times: Sir—A robin a few days ago began building its nest in our mushroom house, and laid one egg. For two mornings, the door being shut, the robin left an egg on the gravel close to the outside of the door, the gardener who found it putting it each time into the nest. Care was then taken to leave the doors open, and the robin has continued laying in the same nest, and is now sitting on its eggs.
